After playing Hamlet and Faustus at University I worked as an actor doing Fringe and Community Theatre in London. I then began a career as a theatre director (Liverpool, Leeds, London) and acting teacher (Rose Bruford, Central, RADA). Now I focus solely on acting and modelling . I am very experienced in improvising and devising and would describe myself as a 'character actor' and love to transform whatever the style, naturalism to expressionism. I am also very relaxed with role play and can stay in character for hours. I am a sensitive ensemble player and would be perfect in a theatre or film company that produces new work.
