Rohan Jeetendra Khemlani

Introduction:

I have been raised in rural Russia with only locals, urban Japan (Sapporo) where I learnt English, and obtained a medical degree from Semmelweis University in Hungary, Budapest. My life experiences have cultivated a deep understanding of human nature and its nuances across cultures & languages. Fluent in English, Russian, Hindi, and conversational in Japanese and Hungarian, I possess a strong ability to connect with diverse scripts and audiences. With a strong foundation of 8 years in theatre and on-going acting training at the English Language Film School and stunt training at Quiet Flame, I am a working actor in Tokyo with credits in film & television, and lead roles in commercials. As someone obsessed with existential questions, my drive lies in exploring the core of humanity, experiencing it in my body to connect more with myself, and expanding the scope of my own consciousness.
